Thirty Cars in Motorcade For 'Beat Centralia' Rally

Pep Rally Works Hawks Win Third

A motorcade of over thirty cars carrying CBC enthusiasts bared the Tri-City business districts during noon hour last Friday, with signs and decorations on the cars, to promote more interest for the CBC basketball team.

The rally proved not to be in vain as the CBC five rolled over the Trailblazers from Centralia by a 85-79 score.

All the student's cars were daily decorated with blue and white streamers and painted signs with messages to "Beat Centralia."

Students worked on decorations Thursday night at the school, but the actual decorating of the cars didn't take place until Friday morning.

The parade lasted about an hour and a half, much to the delight of all the students who had fifth period classes which, by the way, weren't very well attended.

Despite the slippery roads, there were no accidents in the parade.

Eleven CB Nurses Complete Courses; Get State Licenses

Eleven practical nurses have been issued their licenses after successfully completing their courses at Columbia Basin College. This was the announcement received last week from the state board.

One of the nurses, Mrs. Margaret M. King of Kennewick, received highest grade of those trained at Our Lady of Lourdes hospital. The group graduated on December 11 and took their state board examinations on October 31. Their licenses were issued on December 21. The nurses were presented their pins by Pearl A. Wanamaker, Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Columbia Basin College will present its first play, "Outward Bound," this Thursday and Friday in the auditorium of the Pasco High School. Curtain time will be 8 p.m.

In the play, Terry Uppenberg plays the part of a dissolute young man who knows he's dead and wishes he were even more dead, if possible. Don Dawson has the role of a bewildered young parson and Bob Holt is cast as a pompous self-centered British businessman. Marilyn Steffenson plays a haughty society-conscious old woman who finds delight in making fun of Mrs. Midget, a humble and likable scrubwoman, played by Patti Hill.

Ruby Fair and George Bothum are cast as a pair of lovers who find themselves stranded on an ever-traveling ocean liner, doomed to travel to and fro forever, accompanied by the ship's steward, a quiet, good-natured young fellow played by Larry Osterman. The interesting role of the "Examiner," who represents eternal forces, is handled by Charles Denny.

Due to difficulties encountered in getting enough rehearsal time, the play has been a long time getting rehearsed. Mr. Ericson, who is directing the play, stated that the members of the cast have worked a long time and it is hoped that the student body will support the play by attending. Admission will be $1.00 for adults and $.50 for students. CBC students will be admitted on their student activity cards.

New TV Class Successful

Since the forming of the new TV class, the students enrolled have found that there is much more to television than just viewing. Stuart Nathanson, production manager at KEPR-TV, is the class instructor. The main object of the course is to think of television in audio-visual and visual-visual terms. Approximately twenty CBC students are now participating in classroom work and are working one night a week at the studio room at KEPR-TV.

Mr. Nathanson has had much experience in all types of television productions. He worked for many years in the heart of television land, Hollywood. He was affiliated with CBS in Hollywood and then traveled to KIMA-TV in Yakima. When the TV studio was built in Kennewick and live broadcasting began, Mr. Nathanson was appointed the new production-direction manager, which is one of the most important jobs in the television field.

The class has a textbook, Techniques of Television Production, written by Rudy Bretz, formerly production-director of CBS-TV. The book is a thorough practical guide describing the equipment and materials used in producing television programs.

One night a week approximately four students attend the television workshop class, which is held Monday through Saturday. Here the students are familiarized with the television studio itself. A routine evening will find the students setting up commercial displays from cars to dog foods. Also the students watch Bob Parnell's technique on live news broadcasting.

Veterans Club Elects New Officers

Keith Sterling was unanimously elected president of the newly-formed Vet's Club at Columbia Basin College. Other officers elected were: Keith Andrews, Vice-President; Tom Burnside, Secretary; and Don Sanders, Treasurer. These election results were posted last week at their weekly meeting.

The Vet's Club constitution was passed by the student council last Tuesday afternoon, officially recognizing the club as a student organization. To become a member of the club, you must have completed a tour of active duty in the armed forces. As of now the membership in the club runs around forty men and as many as thirty more are expected to join.

Sterling stated that it had the makings of a fine club and would be a power in the school.

Registrar Announces Honor Roll Students

Eleven Tri-City students were named to the fall quarter honor roll at Columbia Basin College this week, according to George Askegaard, registrar.

Top student for the school's first quarter was Dave Long of Richland, who had a total of 65 honor points and is an architectural engineer major. Other honor students were: Frances Miller, Pasco; Wayne Mulkey, Kennewick; Chuck McHane, Kennewick; Joe Turner, Kennewick; Edith Benninghoven, Pasco; Bob Grantham, Richland; Ken Ehrsam, Eltopia; Walt Menefee, Richland; Williard Fillion, Kennewick; and Bruce Perkins, Richland.

Those eligible for the honor roll must have a total of 50 or more honor points with no more than five hours of a "C" rating.

Pep Band Adds Color

Columbia Basin College has been sporting a new-look as of late with the addition of a snazzy ten piece pep band.

The band has recently been organized by Mr. Fitzpatrick, music instructor at the college. The band has played for four games, even traveling 200 miles to support the team on one occasion.

Members of the band are: Trumpets, Tom Burnside and Bob Harris; Saxophones, Joe Clarke, Wayne Munkey and Loren Claunch; Baritone, Ron Minike; Trombone, Kent Flishman; Tuba, Dick Nelson and Drum, Keith Andrews.

Local Writer 'Funny Boy'

Recently one of the local sports writers has been running articles to this effect.

"The Columbia Basin Hawks, ripping along through the Washington Junior College conference, will lay their mighty one-game winning streak on the line tonight."

"It was CBC's second win in conference play, second in the season, and second in the history of the school, and they are now a mere 37 wins short of catching the San Francisco Dons."

"But the group of CBC backers, including its small but high-quality band, were content to know the much-beaten Hawks had not been played right out of the spacious Pasco high gym."

I can't figure out if this character is trying to promote interest, criticize, or just a plain wise-guy. Any way you look at it, we of CBC don't like the dirty little digs!

I appreciate the fact that they are giving us publicity and fine sports coverage, but the sarcastic quips stink! If he wants to write funnies, he's on the wrong page!

I do not look on our basketball team as a big laugh to fill up copy space for some joker. We have a hard-fighting club, and the guys deserve all the credit in the world for the fine job they've been doing. We don't need anymore demoralization in this school!

A little Mexican boy in an American school, told to write the first verse of "The Star Spangled Banner," began: "Jose, can you see."

Columbia Basin Selected By Board To Receive 'Great Books' Series

The Columbia Basin College has been selected to receive one of the 1,600 sets of Great Books of the Western World being distributed through a selection committee of the American Library Association under a grant from the Old Dominion Foundation. Announcement of the names of recipients was made at the ALA Headquarters in Chicago by David H. Cliff, ALA Executive Secretary.

The Old Dominion Foundation was established in 1941 by Paul Mellon. Grants of over $20,000,000 have been made by the Foundation for "religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational purposes as shall be in the furtherance of the public welfare . . ."

The set contains 54 volumes encompassing 443 works by 74 authors . . . spanning Western thought from Homer and the Bible to the 20th century. It totals 32,000 pages, comprising 25,000,000 words.

It represents the only publication in English, or the only edition aside from rare or expensive printings, of key works by Aristotle, Hippocrates, Galen, Euclid, Archimedes, Ptolemy, Copernicus, Galileo, Harvey, Descartes, Pascal, Newton, Montesquieu, Kant, Lavoisier, Fourier, Faraday and Freud.

The set includes 1,200 pages of original writing, including Dr. Hutchins' introductory volume, "The Great Conversation," and the 102 introductory essays in the Syntopicon by Dr. Adler.

Mrs. Partch sent an application questionnaire to the American Library Association Headquarters whereby C.B.C.'s library was selected to receive this celebrated works, including the unique idea-index the Syntopicon, which is produced by Encyclopaedia Britannica in collaboration with the University of Chicago.

Hear about the song writer who wore out a map trying to locate the "Crimea River" that everyone is talking about? That's just about enough of that stuff, so we'll get on with the chatter about recent wax platters.

Through the ear-hole we hear that the Crew Cuts refused to cut the R & B tune "Tutti Frutti" because it was too blue for their style . . . Seems like Julius LaRosa has nothing but trouble. He is now severing his partnership with Archie Bleyer in their newly-formed music, so-called "Rosarch."

We'd like to pay tribute to a fine person and to one who has contributed a great deal to the entertainment world as well as the recording field, a woman whose comeback has been the talk of the year and well deserves to be. Her name, Lillian Roth. We hope that you will see her heart-warming movie "I'll Cry Tomorrow," and listen to her wonderful long play album of the music she has sung through the years.

Here in the "Sandy Sea" music has taken on a definite general title. It is known as rhythm and blues. It seems to be the greatest thing since fresh air as far as the music fans are concerned, and they request it night and day and still find time in between.

Ah, the new year revision question is what does the year revise. Certainly not study habits. I am no different than the next slob. I make sippid little ditties like, "year I'm going to study," but somehow I never quit around to doing it. This graph is how a would-be novelist can write a paragraph saying nothing, accomplishing nothing, but doing what is important, filling space. (Am)

I see that our old editor, "Lips," is back in the again writing such novel columns as "Seen Around true masterpiece of Nether composing.

The news tabloids are again, they have another mance about which to write. This time it is movie-star "Country Girl" Kelly, a some prince of a fellow in Monte Carlo. It's a very interesting romance as it seems dashing young prince Grace in one of those gambling games. His name is my mind at the moment be either Olympia, Rainier, Blitz. Ever since I heard the have been down on my knees screaming "Come on seven I have my eye on Marilyn "en Year Itch" Monroe for stakes. I will, however, be isified with Anita "Blood ley" Ekberg as a drooling solation prize.

I now switch from fantasy reality and talk about the study room here at college seems that the student cafeteria has been changed from a beanery to a ping pong case and the addicts are hating themselves a ball.

There are many different types of ping pong players. is "Bazooka Jack." He plays slam-bang game, usually necting with the ball every other try. Then there is "lish Earl." This joker will ally shed tears if the white ball does not hop at least four different directions. Lastly there is "Novice He is the one who states don't know how to play well," and then proceeds ram the ball down your unsuspecting throat.

A new club is being formed here at college and all interested are to write in to the paper saying that they wish join. The name of this club The JC Temperance Society and their first meeting will held at the Shamrock Cock Room with yours truly presing.

Hawks To Host Lower Columbia Saturday

EBC Dumps WJC, 85-81

Sparked by forward Glynn Gibson, the Col-Basin Hawks defeated the Wenatchee Knights, 85-81 at Wenatchee January 19, this win being the first one for the Hawks in conference play.

The Hawks got off to a fast start with Forrest and Gillespie dumping in 24 points between them. The half ended with the Hawks on the long end of a 49-40 score. At the beginning of the second half the Knights exploded and, before the Hawks could get started, Wenatchee had grabbed a nine point lead. Gibson began sinking shots from close in, while Platsman hit from outside the key to knot the score, 79-79. Gibson then scored on a steal to put the Hawks ahead for good.

Once more it was at the foul line that the Hawks almost gave the game away. Col-Basin hit for 33 field goals to Wenatchee's 24 but the Knights topped in 33 of 49 free throws while the Hawks made a poor showing of only 19 out of 32 the charity line.

CBC Five Trip Centralia, 85-79; Block Scores 29

The blue-and-white clad Hawks, led by Dick Block's 29 points, won their third straight conference game last Friday night as they topped the Centralia Trailblazers, 85-79 on the Pasco maple.

Trailing by eight points at the end of the half, the CBC five scrapped back with the lead changing hands over ten times in the second period of play. The Blazers were in the lead most of the second half and with six minutes left to play, they led 72-71. Then with the score tied at 74-74, Block dumped in a rebound and a free throw to put the Hawks ahead for the rest of the game.

The Hawks jumped out to an early 23-10 lead in the first half, but the Blazers caught fire in the latter part of the half netting ten quick points to put them in front at half time.

Dick Block, leading all the Hawks with a 14 point average, dumped in 29 points and was top scorer in the game. Lynn Gillespie hit for 17 and Dave Forrest collected a total of 14. High point man for the Trailblazers was Don Lytz with 24 tallies.

A climax for the Hawk's third straight victory was reached when the CBC players carried Herald sportswriter Gil Gilmore off the floor and threw him, clothes and all, into the shower.

The subs deserve a great deal of credit for the win, as they held the Trailblazers at bay almost the entire second half while Block and Gibson were on the bench with four fouls.

SPORTS SQUINTS

By T. B.

With most of the other sports writers in the conference making their predictions of league play, I tend to disagree with all of the polls. Here is my pick.

1. Grays Harbor
2. Clark
3. Centralia
4. Lower Columbia
5. Yakima
6. Columbia Basin
7. Olympic
8. Everett
9. Wenatchee
10. Skagit Valley

The CBC team is an inspired group since they've been getting the much-needed backing that a fine ball club deserves. Granted that our school spirit is being slowly revived, but what about you students that are staying home, watching TV, going to the movies or out boozing it up somewhere? Are you too good for the team? All this talk about because we're a first year college we're not going to have a winning team is a lot of crap! I realize that there are a good many of you that have other obligations, but not over half of the student body!

Columbia Basin's red-hot Hawks took their second conference game in a row last week, dumping the Everett Trojans 73-66 in a Basin home game.

Everett, highly favored to beat the Hawks, left the court at half time with a 39-35 lead, but the lead changed hands over ten times during the first twenty minutes of play.

Trailing by four points, the Hawks held the visitors scoreless while they tallied eleven straight points to give them a 48-41 lead. From there on in the Hawks kept their lead, although they were threatened when the Trojans closed the gap to a 69-66 score.

CBC edged Everett in all the statistics hitting 29 field goals to the Trojans 26 and dropping in 15 for 34 from the free throw line while Everett hit only 14 of 30.

Col-Basin Quintet To Battle Loggers

The Hawks open another home stand this Saturday playing their second conference game against the Loggers from Lower Columbia. In their previous meet, the Loggers rolled over the blue and white by a 76-64 total on the Longview maple.

Included in this home stand will be the last two home games of the season. CBC will take on the powerful Grays Harbor quintet on February 6, who trounced the Hawks 97-48 in their last tilt, and also will host the Wenatchee Knights on February 10, whom the CBC five edged 85-81 on the Wenatchee floor.

In the last battle with Lower Columbia, the Hawks showed up fine in the first half of play, the half time score being 34-30 in favor of the home team. Then the roof fell in on the Hawks. They had one of their sad dry periods and the Loggers jumped out in front with a fifteen point lead.

Don Hand, Lower Columbia forward who has only two fingers on his right hand, scored repeatedly on the fast break to net 20 points. Williams, the other forward, also scored well from the key collecting 12 points.

Dave Forrest and Jim Jones were the high point men for the Hawks, each dropping 10 points through the hoop. Block rebounded well, 21 all total, but didn't have his shooting clothes on that night, winding up with a mere eight points.

Keith Andrews was appointed Intercollegiate Commissioner by the student council January 24. On January 25, Earl Taylor was unanimously elected by the student body as a student representative on the student council.

Student Council Reports

Dick Block reported that "Down Beat" and the Record Wrangler radio show will advertise for the C.B.C. basketball team as a public service message.

There was considerable discussion about parking in the teacher's parking area. This will be permitted if the students are sure the teacher is not at school at that particular time. It was stated that the area by the exit door may be used for parking, provided it isn't completely blocked.

The Veterans of C.B.C. have organized a club called the "Vets Club". Their constitution was read at the council meeting and approved by the council. This is the second club to be organized at C.B.C.

The student council voted for a motorcade which took place last Friday through the Tri-City business districts.

Psych Class Has Interview

Gunler Hauck, an exchange student from Germany presently employed at the Columbia Basin News newspaper office, was interviewed by the psychology class last Thursday. Miss Agnes Mariana made all the arrangements for the talk.

Gunler has been in the United States for a little over two years as a result of a scholarship presented him by St. Martin's college. He has studied political economics while in Germany and is now majoring in journalism. He worked in Germany as a reporter for three years before coming to the States.

Pulled into the Hitler Youth Movement at the age of ten, he was later drafted into the German army at the age of fifteen. He was captured by the Americans shortly before the end of the war, but managed to escape and return home where he has lived until now.

A.W.S. Candy Sale Helps Raise Funds

The first candy sale of the year was held by the Associated Women Students January 18, to help finance the forecoming Sadie Hawkins mixer and to raise funds to pay back the bookstore for money which was borrowed for the Semi-Formal Dance Dec. 9, sponsored by the Associated Women Students.

Jackie Brassington was in charge of the sale. June Marshall, Jackie Brassington, Diana Davila, Charleen Coombs and Jackie Rieten sold candy at the door leading into the cafeteria. President Donna Rombough stated, "It turned out to be a success, and more candy sales will be planned in the future."

The A.W.S. hopes that everyone enjoyed the candy.

German Club Active Group

The German Club, a new group recently approved by the student council, has proved itself to be very active in the short time that it has been in existence. Some of its various activities are: to handle programs at basketball games, sponsor mixer dance after games and hold raffles to up the club's treasury.

The new officers of the club are as follows: Charles Denny, president; Wayne Mulkey, vice-president; and Norma Benson acts as both secretary and treasurer. Advisor for the organization is Mr. James Devine, German instructor at the college.

The German Club was the first to be accepted by the student council in the history of the college. After holding a mixer in the lounge last Friday night after the game, the club plans to hold a raffle in the near future. All these fundraising activities are for the purpose to collect enough money to send one member of the club to the University of Munich in Germany during the summer.

Football In Fall Quarter

"Columbia Basin College will play football next fall" was the announcement given to the Pasco athletic committee last week by Mr. Dick Maurstad, Pasco athletic director.

With the addition of the CBC squad, the league will be rounded to eight teams. They are: Centralia, Grays Harbor, Olympic, Everett, Yakima, Wenatchee, Lower Columbia and Columbia Basin. Although Clark JC and Skagit Valley play in the basketball conference, they do not field football teams.

No announcement was made as to the coaching position for the Hawks, but several coaches are being considered.

Playing at the JC will be an advantage to many freshman football players for the continuation of their grid activities. Here they will have the opportunity to play a full season of games and transfer to the college of their choice without losing any eligibility. The PCC freshmen are limited to two games a year.

Ten Per Cent Enrollment Increase

Enrollment has increased ten per cent at Columbia Basin College this quarter with the addition of new classes. The bulk of those enrolled are veterans, according to the administration.

There are now 175 students enrolled in the vocational, technical and practical nursing, and 155 enrolled in academic classes. This makes a total of 280 students, as compared with 266 of last quarter.

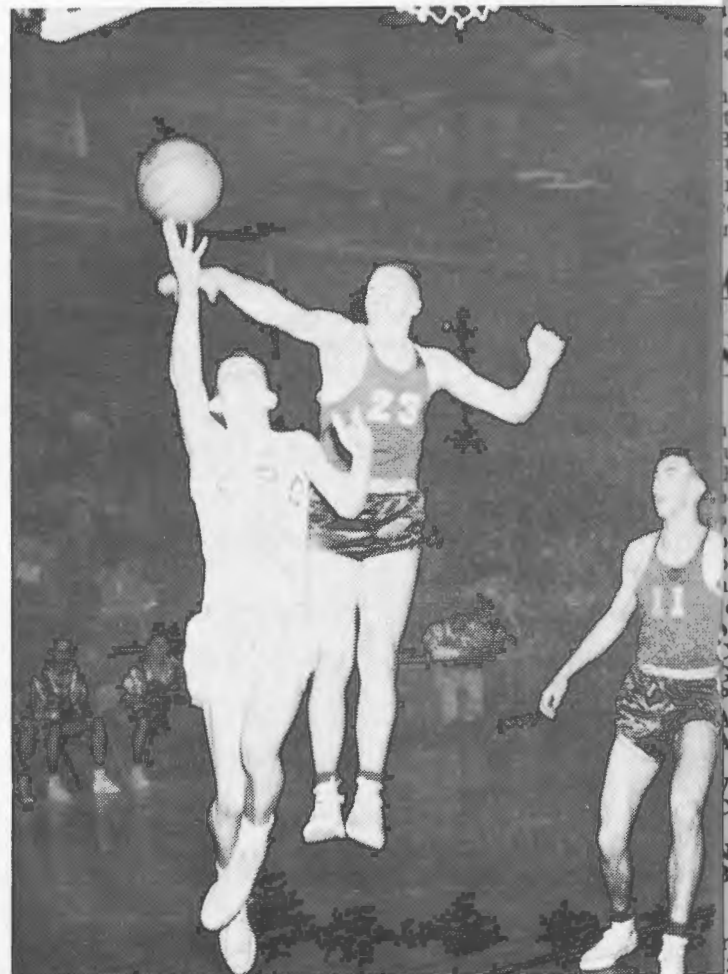

The female enrollment has increased by two, bringing the number of women students up to 36.

Three more classes have been added to the curriculum; T. V. Production, Art Design and a Spanish class.

A class on production in television is the first of its kind for the junior colleges in the state. This class is instructed by Stuart Nathanson, a cameraman at KEPR-TV. The students are able to witness professional production technique at the television studio.

The addition of an Art Design class headed by Mr. James Stakkestad, who is the wife of the basketball coach and mathematics instructor, has provided three credit hours for those interested in the development of their art drawing.

The Spanish class is taught by Mr. James Devine, who is the head of the foreign language department at the college.

TWO MORE POINTS—Chuck Ramp (9) dumps in a lay-up for the CBC five in the game against Centralia last Friday. Trying to put on the check is Wilson (23). Standing watching the action is Don Lytz (11).
